Students have been working on their Speedometry Unit in Ms. Huffman's 4th grade class. Here's some pictures of the students having fun learning:

I also had the pleasure of Addie reading a book she wrote at home because she was inspired by something they had done in class. My heart is happy.

Additionally, here are some pictures of 4th graders that were working on animals and their adaptations within their environments. Students presented to many parents and grandparents and did a phenomenal job.

Finally, there were lots of holiday parties happening at NRE today. Before school, the day started with the secret gift exchange of staff. NRE staff graced Amanda and me with their “ugly sweater” which contained pictures of the two of us - silly staff :)

I cannot thank you all for a wonderful first semester at NRE. I love the students, parents, staff, and the entire community. I appreciate all of your support, time and energy you give to us.

I hope you enjoy the two weeks of with your kid(s). Stay warm and enjoy the time together.

Happy Holidays!
Katie Lynch
Principal
